This is James from James Spanish (the learning Spanish blog). Flash cards are a brilliant addition to any language student's study materials. Not only are they portable, meaning that you can carry them around to use any time you have a few minutes spare, but they have been proven to be extremely effective in helping you to remember words, phrases and rules. This handy pack covers a wide range of vocabulary - over 1,000 words! Enough to get anyone started speaking Spanish. There are also some cards covering verbs, so by using the set you are building not just your vocabulary but your grammar skills too. The flash cards take the typical format of having the Spanish on one side, and the English translation on the reverse. A nice design feature of these cards is that the Spanish text is printed in black, while the English is printed in blue. This allows you to quickly make sure the cards are all facing in the correct direction at a glance. A small detail, but one you will be glad for if you ever drop the pack or find that someone has shuffled them badly! Another one of the features that put these flash cards ahead of some other sets available is the fact that in addition to a word the cards also give an example sentence or phrase to show how it might be used. These sentences offer even more vocabulary to learn, as well as making sure that you fully understand how the word should be used. The range of vocabulary is enough to satisfy most levels of learners, teaching new and useful words to beginners and offering more word groups and a revision of vocabulary to more advanced students. The compact size of this set of flash cards make the ideally suited to people on the go, or for taking with you while you travel.
